R. L. Noif, a prominent mining man of Modena, Utah, was in Salt Lake last week.

C. C. Collins and D. C. McIntyre, of Contact, Nevada, were in Salt Lake, last week, on mining business.

E. L. Fletcher, of Osceola, Nevada, manager for the Huerberite Tungsten company, was a recent Salt Lake visitor.

It is stated that M. J. Daily, formerly of Park City, but now of Salt Lake, may soon start a bank at Mason, Nevada.

Joe Free, one of the contractors on the Snake Creek tunnel enterprise, was in Salt Lake from Park City a few days ago.

E. G. Coffin, the efficient superintendent of the Lower Mammoth, at Mammoth, Utah, was in Salt Lake the first of the week.

A. G. Burritt, of Salt Lake, manager of the Ohana, at Blackhorse, Nevada, has been in the east, of late, on company business.

A. R. Carter, one of the leading mining operators of Park Valley district, Box Elder county, Utah, was a recent Salt Lake visitor.

David Williams, of Frisco, Utah, superintendent of the Beaver Carbonate, was in Salt Lake on mining business a few days ago.

Frank Shirar, of Ely, Nevada, is visiting Gold Circle district, Elko county, same state, where he has extensive mining interests.

Orrin Lamb, of Orogrande, Idaho, superintendent of the Umtilla mine, recently attended a meeting of the company at Portland, Oregon.

E. H. Farr, of Tacoma, has accepted a position as superintendent for the Tacoma & Clearwater Mining company, operating gold placers near Elk City, Idaho.

D. C. McDonald, mayor of Ely, Nevada, and general manager for the Success Mining company, was in Salt Lake last week making ore contracts with the smelters.

James H. Marriott, of Osceola, Nevada, manager for the Amalgamated Mines company, has returned from a visit to Boston, where he conferred with the officials of his company.

William Ochs, a prominent Salt Lake mining man, recently concluded a visit in Arizona mining property. The mine in question is known as the Gold Trail, near the Gold Road in Mohave county.

E. M. Weiler and George W. Crisman, of Salt Lake, have returned from a visit to the Utah mine in Fish Springs district, Tooele county, Utah. They report the mine as looking fine, with a new strike recently made that assays from 40 to 50 per cent lead and 114 ounces in silver to the ton. A car of ore, of twenty-seven tons, was on the market from the Utah last week Tuesday, and gave returns of $91.42 per ton.

Pirre Peugeot, general manager, and Leon Pirre, superintendent, of the Burro mine on Black Mountain, near the head of City Creek canyon, have returned to Salt Lake from a visit to this property, which was recently equipped with a new tram.

Fritz Rettich, the veteran mining man who has been a prominent factor in operations at Alta, Utah, for the past thirty years, died on the 10th at the age of 80. The deceased possessed many excellent characteristics of heart and mind. He was kind and gentle, hospitable to a marked degree, and was respected and beloved by a wide circle of friends and acquaintances.